DYING OF TYPHOID FEVER.

War Department's Incompetency Far Worse Than Spanish Bullets.

Atlanta, Ga., August 11.—Three enlisted men died today of typhoid fever in the general hospital Fort McPherson—a total of ten deaths from this disease in sixty hours. Today's dead were buried in the national cemetery at Marietta, Ga., where all dead from this disease will be interred in the future. Fifty of the 400 cases of typhoid fever under treatment are in a serious condition.

Extra sanitary precautions to guard against infection among the troops at the post have been ordered by Major Bubb the commanding officer.

The three thousand recruits remaining at McPherson will be removed to small camps as soon as possible. Eighteen hundred are now at Camp Hobson, near Lithia Springs; 2000 will be sent to Ponce Springs, near Newton, Ga., and the departure of several hundred to Montauk, L. I., in a day or two, will clear the reservation of men and eliminate the danger of infection.

PROTOCOL APPROVED.

Spanish Cabinet So Votes and Will Cable M. Cambon to Sign Preliminaries.

ARMISTICE FIRST

That the Primary Condition of Protocol.

London, August 12.—The special despatches from Madrid indicate the difficulty of ascertaining the exact procedure in the peace negotiations.

The Madrid correspondent of the Times telegraphing at 7.15 Thursday evening, says:

"The preliminary negotiations are advancing steadily, although perhaps not quite so quickly as could be wished.

"The short reply from Washington to the last Spanish note, which reached Madrid today, must be regarded as merely a forerunner of a more detailed communication that may be expected in the course of the next few days. It says the President will take into consideration all the points raised in the last Spanish note and will embody the conditions as a whole in a formal document, the text of which will be telegraphed to Madrid for acceptance with the least delay possible. Until this latter communication is received, it will be impossible to say whether the Cortes will be assembled at once or only at the close of the negotiations."

The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"The cabinet today considered the protocol, which arrived this (Thursday) morning. President McKinley accepts the Spanish reply with slight formal modifications.

"The first condition of the protocol is an armistice. This will be declared immediately. The conditions are the same as those proposed by President McKinley. Senor Sagasta has cabled M. Cambon an authorization to sign the protocol to which step the Queen Regent had already given assent.

"The cabinet council tonight also discussed the instructions to be given the Spanish commissioners for the negotiation of peace. The question of the Philippines will be the chief point for consideration and on this the precise intentions of the American government are not known."

The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Chronicle telegraphing Thursday night says:

"The minister of war, Lieut. Gen. Correa, declares that it will be a difficult problem to dispose of the repatriated soldiers, since there is no room for them in the barracks.

"The Pope has authorized the Spanish government to reduce temporarily the salaries of the clergy in view of Spain's necessities."

FLEET HEARS LATEST.

With the fleet, off Guantanamo, via Playa del Este, August 11.—7 p. m.—The Associated Press bulletin announcing the peace protocol had been agreed upon was the first definite news received here regarding the progress of the peace negotiations. Nothing had been received from the navy department or from any other source. The despatch caused the most intense satisfaction throughout the fleet.

It is expected that several warships will soon be able to go North and the great fleet now lying here is in readiness to be distributed to the various stations.

FOR SANTIAGO SOLDIERS.

Boston, August 11.—In response to the cablegram of Dr. E. G. Drackett, who is at Santiago superintending the distribution of supplies for the volunteer aid association the association today forwarded to that point a large amount of prepared foods. The shipment was made on the steamer Barnstable of the Boston fruit company and will be transhipped at Port Antonio, Jamaica, on a sailing vessel to Cuba. It is hoped that this shipment will reach Santiago before the departure of the 2nd and 9th regiments, but in case it does not, it will be distributed among the troops located there who are most in need of it.

TO GOVERN COLONIES.

President Facing An Entirely New Problem.

Washington, August 11.—Plans for the temporary government of Cuba and the territory which will be acquired from Spain as a result of the war are now under serious consideration by the President and members of the cabinet. Porto Rico as an actual acquisition to the territory of the United States, will be placed in charge of a military governor who will exercise a supervisory control of all of the functions of government until Congress shall determine upon a permanent form of government for the island. The President, under the constitution and laws, has no authority to go beyond this preliminary or temporary stage in the establishment of any system of governmental control and although it is altogether probable that in his message to Congress on the subject he will exercise his constitutional privilege of making recommendations, upon Congress alone will devolve the responsibility and duty of determining the character of the political relations which Porto Rico shall permanently bear to the United States.

There are reasons for the belief that the President himself favors a colonial form of government and that this view is shared by the cabinet. Canada is cited as having a model colonial government which is satisfactory alike to a majority of its people and to the mother country. This system, however, it is believed, cannot be put into operation until the lapse of a considerable period of time and after the people have demonstrated sufficiently their ability to govern themselves intelligently in a form of government for the island. The evacuation of Cuba it is believed to be the intention of the President to establish for the whole island a temporary military government similar to that now in operation at Santiago.

When order has been fully restored and the people have settled down to their peaceful occupations, it is believed to be the view of the President that a convention of representatives of the people should be called to vote on the question of a form of government for the island. The presence of the army of the United States would be a guarantee that every citizen who would subscribe to an oath binding himself to support whatever form of government should be agreed upon should have the unquestioned rights to vote for whomsoever he pleased to represent a form of government for the island. This body, however, would have to be submitted to the United States for approval or disapproval.

THE SANTIAGO CONTROVERSY.

Surgeon General Sternberg Tells What He Recommended

Washington, August 11.—In view of complaints against the medical branch of the army the statement is given out that Surgeon General Sternberg on April 15, made the following recommendation to the Adjutant General as to medical supplies to accompany the army:

Each regiment to take two ambulances, four extra litters, a field hospital for ten men, medical and surgical chests, field supplies for three months.

Infantry regiments to have a steward or acting steward and ten privates of hospital corps.

Cavalry regiments to have two stewards or acting stewards and fifteen hospital corps men.

A light battery to have one ambulance, field hospital for five men (one hospital tent), an acting steward and five privates of the hospital corps.

On April 20, 1898, the surgeon general sent instructions to Major B. F. Pope, chief surgeon, Tampa, Fla., directing him to inspect the medical department of each regiment upon its arrival and report to him the deficiencies in medical supplies. The surgeon general also furnishes a long list of the more important articles of medicine that were sent to Tampa and Santiago with the army.

Action Taken at Cabinet Meeting Last Evening.

American Forces Capture City of Mayaguez, Porto Rico.

Madrid, 10 p. m., August 11.—The government has received the protocol and the cabinet council rose at 9.40 p. m. having approved it. The government will wire M. Cambon tonight, empowering him to sign the preliminaries of peace.

Madrid, 10.30 p. m., August 11.—The day has been diplomatically, one of the busiest since the outbreak of the war. There have been two cabinet councils, in addition to various diplomatic conferences.

Though the text of the protocol was not received until the evening was well advanced, the government had been made fully acquainted with its contents through Paris. The matter was practically settled as already cabled at the cabinet meeting this afternoon and the receipt of the actual document therefore only required a meeting of the cabinet for a formal acceptance.

Ministers adhere to the statement that the protocol contains no modification of the original terms, but only new suggestions.

They expect that it will be signed at Washington tomorrow (Friday) and that a suspension of hostilities will be announced.

Duke Almodovar de Rio, minister of foreign affairs, assures the correspondent of the Associated Press that the negotiations for the peace treaty will take place in Paris, but he says the commissioners have not yet been appointed.

The terms of the protocol will not be published until the instrument has been signed.

GEN. SCHWAN TAKES MAYAGUEZ.

Washington, D. C., August 12.—At 1 o'clock this morning the War Department posted the following:

Ponce, August 11.—Secretary of War, Washington: Following from Schwan: Immediately after repulse yesterday, Spanish troops joined by what were left in Mayaguez moved in direction of Lasos. Have sent scouts in that direction. My command entered Mayaguez at 9 o'clock this morning.

(Signed) MILES.

DROVE ENEMY.

Engagement During March to Mayaguez.

Washington, August 11.—The War Department late this afternoon received the following:

Ponce, via Bermuda, August 11. Secretary of War, Washington:

The following message received from Schwan: Camp near Hormigueros, August 10th.—Advance guard, including cavalry of this command while reconnoitering northwest of Rosario river, near Hormigueros developed strong Spanish force which lay concealed in hills north of Mayaguez. In general engagement that followed Lieut. Byron, eighth cavalry, my aide camp, was wounded in foot and Private Formberger, Co. D, 11th infantry and one other private were killed and fourteen enlisted men were wounded.

It is reported that the most if not the entire Spanish garrison of Mayaguez and surrounding country consisting of 1000 regulars and 500 volunteers took part in the engagement. We drove the enemy from his position and it is believed inflicted heavy loss. A wounded Spanish Lieutenant was found in field and brought in our lines. Conduct of officers and men was beyond all praise. I propose to continue my march on Mayaguez at early hour tomorrow.

(Signed) "SCHWAN." MILES.

SCHWAN HAD A FIGHT.

Washington, August 11.—A despatch has just been received at the war department from Gen. Schwan, commanding a brigade under Gen. Miles in Porto Rico, saying he has had an engagement a few miles from Mayaguez with a large Spanish force in which two privates were killed, and Lieut. Riley was wounded in the foot.

CAPTURE OF COAMO.

Gen. Miles Commends Two Officers Who Were In Engagement.

Washington, August 11.—The war department late this afternoon gave out the following delayed telegram:

Ponce, August 9. To Secretary of War, Washington:

The following received from Gen. Wilson: "Gen. Ernst's brigade captured Coamo, 8.30 this morning. Sixteenth Pennsylv.

where a cable station will be ordered. The immediate result will be to afford much more direct communication between Porto Rico and the United States, and out the cable down one half. The French cable officers are said to have acted with the greatest courtesy and consideration in accommodating the United States government throughout the West Indian campaign, although, of course, having strict regard for the obligations imposed by the neutrality laws.

CONDITIONS AT MONTAUK.

Official Denial of Ill Treatment of Soldiers.

Washington, August 11.—War Department officials deny generally the assertions of discomfort and ill-usage of troops reported from Montauk Point. The quartermasters' department which had charge of opening the camp, says that good progress has been made in the four days since the order was issued establishing it.

Four wells have been dug twelve feet deep and one thirty feet deep, the latter furnishing a large supply and all below hard pan. A tank is being erected which will hold 30,000 gallons, and pipes are being laid throughout the camp. All soldiers who have arrived have tents. The men found sleeping on the sand arrived on the midnight and left it of their own volition. The commissary generals' department has reports from its officers at Montauk which state that there is plenty of food.

THE BANCROFT LOSES A MAN.

New York, August 11.—A special to the New York Journal from West says: The gunboat Bancroft arrived today from the Isle of Pines, bringing news of the fight with Spaniards in which one of her men was killed. Ten miles from the south coast of the Isle of Pines, the wreck of a schooner was sighted. The Bancroft's launch, with a one-pounder on board, was sent out and the schooner, seeing the launch, sailed for Puerto Cortes. Soldiers on shore fired at the Bancroft's launch, which replied with her one-pounder, eventually compelling the Spaniards to flee.

Stoker Emanuel Nauqueros was killed by a bullet through the left arm and chest. The launch soon afterward towed away the schooner, which proved to be the Carmite, loaded with fire-wood. The Spanish loss must have been heavy, judging by the launch's effective fire.

SAILING OF TRANSPORTS.

Washington, August 11.—The following was received at the State Department tonight:

Consulate of the United States, Hong Kong, August 11. Moore, Washington:

Inform General Corbin steamship Sydney left Nagasaki 27th; Australia 30th; Ealing, 6th, all direct Russia without stop. (Signed) WILDMAN.

STORES FOR GEN. MERRITT.

San Francisco, August 11.—Five thousand tons of commissary stores will be sent to Gen. Merritt by a special steamer. The provisions will be rations for 20,000 soldiers for several months. All the stores will be purchased from farms on the Pacific coast.

RELIEF FOR MANILA SOLDIERS.

Philadelphia, August 11.—Secretary French of the National Relief association today cabled to United States Consul General Wildman at Hong Kong a thousand dollars with instructions to use the money to buy food and supplies for the troops at Manila, and to have the same shipped as quickly as possible.

Hundred dollars was also sent to Major James E. Pitcher, the commissary agent at Jacksonville, Fla., who is in charge of the hospital supplies there.

TELEGRAPH LINE EXTENDED.

Washington, August 11.—Gen. Greely has received a despatch from Col. Allen, now at Ponce, Porto Rico, stating that the telegraph lines have been extended, first from Ponce, through Guayama and Arroyo, to the headquarters of Gen. Brooke; second, through Guayama, to the headquarters of Gen. Wilson; third, through Adjuntas and Utuado to the headquarters of Gen. Stone; and fourth along the coast to Guanica. These lines all extend to the cable station, and they place the United States in communication with more than half of Porto Rico.

NEGRO REGIMENT FOR SANTIAGO.

New York, August 11.—The Eighth regiment of Illinois volunteers (colored) arrived in Jersey City this morning over the Erie Railroad. The men, numbering 1,326 in all, came in four sections from Camp Tanner, at Springfield, Ill. They are going to Santiago to relieve the First Illinois volunteers, and are to be transported from New York on the cruiser Yale, which vessel is expected to sail today.

CONDITION OF SPANISH PRISONERS.

Portsmouth, N. H., August 11.—In anticipation of orders the return of the Spanish prisoners, a new list of the men with their ratings was made today by the United States Navy and it is now rumored that embarkation will begin about the 25th of the month. There were no new cases of sickness at the camp today, and these who are ill are reported to be rapidly recovering.

LAST DAY OF WAR

So President Thought Last Night.

Washington, August 11.—The Associated Press bulletin from Madrid announcing that the Spanish cabinet had approved the peace protocol and that the French ambassador would receive instructions to sign it, was very gratifying to the administration. It is confidently expected that the signatures will be affixed to this document tomorrow and immediately thereafter both governments will begin carrying out its provisions. The first will be cessation of hostilities followed immediately by the occupation of Manila by General Merritt and the United States troops under his command, the occupation of San Juan in Porto Rico by General Miles and the evacuation of that island by the Spanish forces. It is believed that there will be delay in the evacuation of Havana, Matanzas and other Spanish strongholds in Cuba, as some difficulties are anticipated in arranging for a proper form of government of Cuba and because there is no desire to hurry American troops into the island before cooler weather.

Up to midnight the President had received no official communication as to the action of the Spanish government, but it was stated by those who saw him tonight that he was very expectant that this was the last day of the war.

The French embassy has as yet received no communication from Madrid authorizing M. Cambon to sign the protocol, but the secretaries of the embassy left orders on retiring to be called if any message was received and it will be immediately translated.

There is good authority for the statement that Secretary Day will be at the head of the peace commission and that two United States Senators will be members of it. Senator Allison of Iowa and Senator Gorman of Maryland have been prominently mentioned for places on the commission and it is known that they have been under consideration by the President. It is not believed by members of the commission that the commission can complete its work in time to cause an extra session of Congress to consider legislation which the treaty of peace will necessitate although there is a prospect that an extra session of the Senate may be called in November to consider the treaty of peace.

JOB FOR HOBSON'S FATHER.

Washington, August 11.—The President today appointed Judge J. M. Hobson, father of Lieut. Hobson of Merrimac fame, postmaster at Greensboro, Ala. Mr. Hobson is a Democrat and the nomination was made at the earnest request of his Republican fellow townsmen as a mark of good feeling.

WAR'S STATUS.

Department Awaits Word From Spain.

Washington, August 11.—The interest in government circles centered today in the press despatches from Madrid, as the first news of the decision of the Spanish government would be made public there and there was no likelihood of anything being known officially in Washington during the day as to Spain's decision respecting signatures to the peace protocol.

After the close of office hours Secretary Day drove to the White House and had a half-hour conference with the President. He stated that no further word had been received from Ambassador Cambon but that he expected a call from him tomorrow.

Certain members of the cabinet expressed the opinion that the President would have some news for that body when it met tomorrow, which was construed into an intimation that the Ambassador's call probably would be made in the morning.

Officials show no loss of confidence in their original opinion that the Spanish government will authorize M. Cambon to sign the protocol just as it was transmitted from Washington to Madrid last evening.

The naval war board led by Acting Secretary Allen, called on Judge Day about noon. It is believed their purpose was to impress upon the Secretary the importance of making the surrender of important strategic points at the entrance of harbors such as Morro Castle at Havana harbor, a condition for the cessation of hostilities.

It is questionable, however, whether it is not too late to amend the protocol in its substance as proposed by the war board.

A rumor was put afloat this afternoon to the effect that Secretary Alger, in anticipation of the beginning of the formal peace negotiations, had called General Miles in Porto Rico and General Merritt in the Philippines orders that looked toward a cessation of hostilities.

When his attention was directed to this rumor, Secretary Alger pronounced it to be without foundation and absurd and his words were practically repeated with emphasis by Adjutant General Corbin, through whose hands any such messages must pass.

The publication of such stories, moreover, was deprecated as tending to encourage the Spanish government to further and passive resistance. As a matter of fact General Miles seems to be pressing forward with the greatest energy and a cablegram received from him late in the afternoon reported the forward movement of General Sherman in charge of one of the divisions of the American army and the ensuing skirmish.

Ernst's magazine is also advancing rapidly along the road to Altonito and made what might be described as a very important capture at Cocon Tuesday.

Merritt undoubtedly is pursuing his campaign in Luzon. It is stated positively that he is under no restraining orders from the war department, but that it is left entirely to his own discretion when and how to attack Manila. As it has been reported from Cavite that he was simply waiting the arrival there of the monitor Monadnock, it is presumed this attack will soon follow, if it has not been made already, for according to the calculation of the navy department, the Monadnock is about now at Cavite.

While no quite clear as to General Merritt's purpose in deferring his attack until the vessels arrives, it is the opinion of the military officials that his plans to attack the two monitors, Monterey and Monadnock, directly within range of the Manila batteries and, if a demand for surrender is refused, to batter down these defenses.

Only fully armored vessels can be safely employed in such work.

Secretary Alger today cabled to General Miles to apply immediately to the Porto Rican ports captured by him, the tariff drawn up by the government for Santiago and other Cuban ports. This is in line with the policy of the war department of extending the American system of tariffs as rapidly as possible over captured territory.

The settlement of the details of the evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico is already receiving the earnest attention of the officials. Some provision is to be made for the treatment of the Spanish prisoners and for the disposition of the small arms and the artillery and war stores. There is also some naval property of value remaining in Cuban and Porto Rican ports, and it is a question whether or not this should be demanded by us or allowed to remain in Spanish possession. The conclusion has been reached by Secretary Alger to refer these matters to a military commission and Adjutant General Corbin is now looking up precedents for the guidance of such a commission. Possibly this commission would meet the question raised by the naval war board as to the propriety of holding Morro Castle as a pledge until the formal signature of a treaty of peace.

TO SETTLE ALASKAN TROUBLES.

Washington, August 11.—Gen. Merriam commanding the department of Columbia, has been given full power in the matter of military affairs in Alaska. He telegraphed to the department stating that the last boats were about to leave for the Yukon country and it might be necessary to send to some portion of the army to insure public peace. It is probable that he will send two or three hundred men, including a battery of artillery.

Gen. Merriam will select such troops from his command as he thinks are needed in Alaska.

SPAIN IS SATISFIED.

Madrid, August 11.—10 a.m.—In official circles here the reply of the United States to Spain, in the matter of the peace negotiations, is regarded as satisfactory.

The Premier Sagasta, however, denies that the authorities of the French ambassador at Washington, M. Cambon, as the representative of Spain, to make changes in the Spanish answer.

"As regards conditions which might create difficulties during the course of negotiations," the Premier added: "If any changes are to be made, the government itself will make them."

The text of the reply of the United States will not be definitely known until after the coming cabinet meeting.

The Liberal, moderate Republican, expressed the belief that President McKinley would not be definitely known until after the coming cabinet meeting.

"We accept the sacrifice, knowing the responsibility falls upon the government. The treaty is to be made, and the peace procedure while the diplomats are quibbling. It is useless to make distinction in language in order to reach a conclusion which is inevitable and already known. While our blood continues to flow in Porto Rico and at Manila. During the last three years we have sacrificed to the war, and this is the only aspect of the question that at present can be considered. Any way the press is unable to discuss its own reports. All ends in concluding an armistice is criminal."

DRUNKEN POLICEMAN'S CRIME.

New York, August 11.—Policeman Howard Hawley of the 10th precinct, in a drunken rage at noon today, shot and mortally wounded his wife, aged 25, his two children, May, aged 5, and Maudie, aged 3, his aged mother, Mrs. Hawley, and himself, blew out his brains.

The police believe that Hawley's wife had taken him to task for his untidy habits, and becoming enraged he shot her then killed his mother, who was struck in the neck, just under the left ear. Hawley died about a half hour after he shot himself.

His mother's mother momentarily recovered consciousness at the hospital this afternoon, she made a statement to Coroner Hart. In substance it was as follows: "My son had been drinking and appeared crazy. He shot his wife first and then shot me. Then he shot his two children and himself."

Owen Gallagher, employed by Lock & Smith at No. 105 West 37th street, saw a good part of the tragedy. Gallagher was looking out of his window when he saw Hawley's wife running toward the rear of Hawley's apartment. Gallagher and other workmen had been called to the apartment to help Gallagher. He saw Hawley's wife running toward the rear of Hawley's apartment. Gallagher and other workmen had been called to the apartment to help Gallagher.

He held a revolver in his hand and was looking at it. Gallagher heard Hawley curse his wife, telling her to "get out of this." Then the policeman's mother came up and tried to get the revolver away from him.

The old lady put her arms around her son's neck and endeavored to take the revolver out of his hands. He showed her revolver and she began shooting. Gallagher saw the policeman stand up and aim the pistol directly at the two little children. He saw Hawley's wife put her arms around Hawley's neck and he heard her repeating this sentence: "I am going to kill you." Mrs. Hawley, the mother of the policeman, died tonight in the New York hospital. Her body as well as those of Hawley and his children were taken to an undertaking establishment, where they were viewed by hundreds of the morbidly curious.

MORGAN OBJECTS TO ONIONS.

San Francisco, August 11.—The steamer Mariposa, conveying the Hawaiian commissioners and 154 men of the First New York volunteers to Honolulu, sailed today at 4 o'clock this morning.

She was detained at her dock all night awaiting the arrival of delayed English mails.

When the Hawaiian commission embarked on the steamer Mariposa they found the stowaway cargo of onions. The Hawaiian commissioners, Morgan and Cullum and Representative Hitt made a strong protest to Capt. Hayward against the ship sailing in such a manner. He declared that he would not allow an insult to the government to convert the vessel which was to carry the official reports on "an important mission" into a freight ship. He said that he asserted that it was unsafe to proceed to sea under such conditions. Every barrel of onions was taken and a number of passengers could not get sleeping accommodations. The commission was obliged to remain on the vessel for several days. It could not secure other means of transportation.

OMAHA FLYER HELD UP.

St. Joseph, Mo., August 11.—The incoming Omaha flyer on the Burlington road was held up at Dog Hill, two miles north of here at 9 o'clock tonight by five or six well armed men. After securing possession of the express car the robbers took over the train and proceeded with a small safe out of the car door into a wagon and endeavored to haul it away. They abandoned their task, however, and soon dumped the safe out on the highway. The safe was recovered two hours after and had not been opened. Though several shots were fired to intimidate the train men, none of the passengers were molested.

GRANDVIEW

Is situated in South Portland, opposite the Golf Club grounds, and contains over 1,400,000 square feet of the best building land in the vicinity of Portland. This tract has a large frontage on both Main street and Rigby Road, and also on Grandview and Park Avenues, the new boulevards we are constructing through the property. It has a frontage of 2000 feet on the Portland & Cape Elizabeth electric car line, and a proposed extension of the Portland city road will run directly past it on Main street. The Boston & Maine R. R. also crosses part of the land, and a number of the lots immediately bordering the track will be reserved for manufacturing purposes and a railroad station. The location is the highest in the vicinity of Portland—overlooking the city and harbor, Rigby Park and the surrounding country for miles. On this property is one of the finest springs in the state, with sufficient flow to supply several hundred families. Although the spring itself is worth a fortune, we shall improve the land immediately surrounding this valuable water supply and present it to the city for a park, reserving to owners of lots at Grandview the right to use the water. The title to this property was examined by Hon. A. F. Moulton, Mayor of Deering, and pronounced perfect. No other place in the vicinity of Portland offers such inducements as Grandview for a home or safe investment.

LAND IS THE SUREST, SAFEST INVESTMENT.

It can't burn up, no one can steal it, and unlike stocks and bonds which are up one day and down the next, land in or near a growing city is always increasing in value. There are thousands of people who are rich today simply because they owned land near some one of our New England cities and held on to it until it came into active demand for house lots. And we can safely venture the prediction that there is not a foot of vacant land within three miles of Portland city hall but which will be worth all the way from double to ten times its present value inside of five years. A few dollars invested in one of our lots will be laying the foundation of a home or future capital for many a young man in Portland and vicinity. See that you are one of them! Young men be alive to your own interests! Fathers start your sons in the world with one of our lots for a nest egg! It is better than putting pennies in the savings bank for them to spend as soon as they are old enough to draw them out. Only 50 cents a week! And think what it means to you in the future.

MAINE MUSICAL FESTIVAL.

Director Chapman, of the Maine Music Festival, which this year will be held in Portland on Oct. 10, 11 and 12, announces that he proposes to make the war concert, (which will be remembered as a brilliant feature of the Maine Symphony Concerts last spring) a part of one of the programs of the great festival in this city. This war concert will, on account of the international situation, take on the aspect of a great peace jubilee. Every patriotic detail will be carried out, and the audience will be given an opportunity to join in some of the choruses.

Mr. Chapman recently visited Boston, and engaged the men who are to assist the Maine Symphony Orchestra in forming the great Festival orchestra for 1898. These men will be from the Boston Symphony orchestra instead of from New York, as last season. The music to be rendered will be brilliant and effective, a conspicuous part of the grand programme already planned and arranged by Mr. Chapman.

Eld. H. C. Basney, president of the Maine conference, will be in charge of the meeting and on the platform will be assisted by many other able speakers from abroad, the western states and neighboring conferences. It is expected that this meeting will be the most important of any yet held in the state by the denomination, and the location also promises to be a pleasant one.

PAKIS EXPOSITION STAFF.

Chicago, August 11.—Ferdinand Peck, commissioner general for the United States to the Paris exposition of 1900, has announced the following appointments on his staff, with the statement that no further appointments would be made until he has returned from Paris: Director of affairs, Paul Blackmar; director of mining and mineralogy, F. J. V. Skiff; temporary director of press bureau, Robert J. Thompson; private secretary, J. H. McGibbons; secretary, Francis C. Count de Valcourt, Vermont.

Commissioner General Peck goes to Paris next month, hoping to secure an increase of the space allotted to the United States at the exposition. Only 150,000 square feet of space have been given to the United States, thus leaving an allotment totally inadequate to the applications that have been received by the commissioner-general. Mr. Peck will endeavor to secure at least 500,000 square feet.

MORE SHIPS FOR DEWEY.

The Admiral Will Be Sent a Few Armor Clads.

Washington, August 11.—It has been almost settled definitely that several big ships will go to Manila to reinforce Admiral Dewey and to allow the withdrawal of some of the vessels of his command, which are very much in need of dry docking. The understanding in naval circles is that some ships will go to the Philippines by way of the Suez Canal, no matter what is the outcome of the peace situation. A large naval force will proceed to Spain to destroy Camara's fleet if the Spanish answer necessitates a severance of the present deals with the Madrid ministry through the medium of the French ambassador. It is intended to maintain Commodore Watson's Eastern squadron as it is now composed. His force will join Dewey's at Manila, if peace commissioners are appointed to remain there pending a settlement of the disposition of the Philippine question.

Information that came out confirms the understanding that Admiral Sampson will command the fleet that will undoubtedly be sent out to remove the last vestige of Spanish naval strength from the seas if active hostilities are resumed. The purpose of the government to hold on to the Philippines is indicated in the decision to augment Dewey's force with Watson's squadron in any contingency.

The ships composing that formation are being subject to the orders of President McKinley. Should the peace overtures be broken off Sampson will proceed, it is understood, with a large force of warships, including those of Watson's division, to carry out an offensive campaign at the very doors of Spain.

This arrangement has been in contemplation since the signing of the peace overtures were made by Spain, and in fact was practically decided on. Nearly all the light fighting ships of the American navy are in Guantanamo Bay, ready for a return to active service. The battleship Texas will soon be in good condition again and will sail under the command of Captain Charles D. Sigbee to join the other vessels of Sampson's fleet. Watson's command will be increased by the armored cruiser Brooklyn, according to the report in circulation among naval officers, so that his squadron will consist of three armorclads, the Brooklyn, the Oregon and the Massachusetts, and three auxiliary cruisers, the Yankee, the Erie and the Yosemite. The last named vessel is now at Newport. News awaiting orders to sail as convoy to several coilliers at Norfolk. They have been no abandonment of the plans to have a big lighting squadron rendezvous at a point not far from the European mainland, and if active hostilities the Atlantic are resumed it is there that Sampson and Watson will go being joined at the rendezvous by the Yosemite and the coilliers and such other vessels as may be added to the force which are now in the West Indies.

ITALY SIMPLY INSISTS.

Rome, August 11.—A semi-official denial has been issued of the version of the Colombian affair which says that Italy informed the United States that unless Colombia paid a million pesetas by August 13, Admiral Canadana would bombard Cartagena. The Italian government's statement is that Italy's action is limited to a formal insistence upon the execution of the whole of President Cleveland's award in the Cerruti case.

A RIVERS IDE RECEPTION.

Enjoyable Social Occasion Given By Portland People at Fryeburg.

[SPECIAL TO THE PRESS.]

Fryeburg, August 11.—Last fall Mrs. George Barrows of Boston visited Jamaica, and brought home many specimens of fruits, nuts, flowers and ferns, which she was kind enough to show those who assembled in Normal hall to listen to her description of the trip, the people, the customs and the place.

Half-past seven brought a good audience together in the auditorium to listen to an illustrated lecture on "The Great Buildings of the World." Prof. Alfred Hamlin of Columbia University was the lecturer.

After the lecture Mr. Chas. Day of Portland, who with Mrs. Day is a guest at the Grove house, gave a very attractive reception on the river banks. Mr. Day's friends and their families and every one else on the grounds attended. He entertained in a royal manner with a very fine display of fireworks. The river bank proved to be just the place for such a display, as the reflection in the water made the spectacle doubly beautiful. Mr. Day's courtesy was thoroughly enjoyed and highly appreciated as was evidenced in the hearty three cheers, repeated several times, which were given him as the last rocket cut its way through the air, making beautiful stars in the heavens.

Apologies of photographs, the class in photography under the direction and instruction of Mr. Leon B. Strout, is one of the best patronized and most popular of the season. Mr. Strout is a professional photographer and one who is capable of and always willing to assist all who come to him with wrinkles in their foreheads. After dinner today the guests assembled on the Grove house piazza and were photographed by Mr. Strout.

Some of the teachers in the school of methods, which opens its session today are going to remain for the rest of the assembly.

The Rev. Harry W. Kimball of Skowhegan, who has been spending a part of his vacation here, leaves Friday for Everett, Mass., where he is to supply the pulpit of the First Congregational church next Sunday.

Hon. W. W. Stetson, state superintendent of schools, is on the grounds. He gave an address this afternoon which proved of interest to all present.

Six large and beautiful photographic reproductions which were sent here from the Prang company to be used by Miss Smith in her class in drawing, were purchased and framed by generous individuals and presented by them to the association for the decoration of the walls of the Grove house parlor.

Following are among the late arrivals: T. B. Johnson, Annie Burgess, Portland; Robert A. Wadsworth, Prof. Hamlin, Boston; Miss C. A. B. Springfield, Mass.; Fannie B. Hodson, Milford, Mass.

As soon after Spain signs the protocol as our commanders can be notified a cessation of hostilities will take place. With the exception of the Philippines all the localities where our troops are operating are in easy reach of the telegraph; hence hostilities will cease immediately on the signing of the protocol. Several days must elapse before Dewey and Merritt can be notified.
The troops at Chickamauga which had been selected to go with Gen. Wade to Porto Rico are greatly disappointed at the abandonment of the expedition. This is not strange. The situation at Chickamauga has become almost intolerable and any change would be a welcome one. Indeed we are inclined to think the troops would prefer to go to Santiago rather than remain where they are any longer.
The acceptance by the Spanish ministry of our terms of peace must be ratified by the Cortes because it involves a cession of territory which the ministry is not authorized to make. But the ratification of our Senate of our terms is just as necessary as that of the Cortes, so that both governments are negotiating provisionally. However there is but slight danger of this Spanish Cortes rejecting or modifying any treaty which the government may negotiate. The danger is less even than that our own Senate may make some changes. But both nations are so anxious for peace that any reasonable settlement is practically sure to be sustained in the Senate and in the Cortes.
With the signing of the protocol by Spain will come a suspension of hostilities, and peace commissioners will meet as soon as possible and negotiate a formal treaty of peace to be submitted to the Senate for ratification. The only important question the commission will have to consider is the future of the Philippines, for all the rest are settled by the protocol. Though there are five commissioners on each side, they by no means will stand on an equal footing. The American commissioners will state their opinion (or more likely their instructions, regarding the Philippines and the Spanish will accept them, though, perhaps, not without some protesting and some efforts to modify them. The outcome of a refusal would be the renewal of the war and of course this Spain could not think of. The Philippines question was held in abeyance, probably, in order that public sentiment in regard to the future of these islands might make itself manifest. Naturally enough the President is anxious, if possible, to learn the wishes of the people, before he makes any definite demand upon Spain in regard to these islands.

All the reports that come from Chickamauga are of the same tenor, and they all point to an alarming amount of sickness among the troops and singular inefficiency of hospital service. Upon somebody rests a good deal of blame for the state of affairs, though who the responsible party is would probably be difficult to find out. Typhoid fever which is doing a large part of the mischief at Chickamauga is a preventable disease. It is communicated only through food or drink. It isn't in the air as some diseases seem to be. It has had its origin at Chickamauga in all probability in a bad water supply, and until that defect is remedied it is not likely to be checked. Troops on the march are necessarily exposed to a great many dangers. They have to drink such water as they can get, they are necessarily exposed to all kinds of weather, and there is little opportunity for sanitary precautions. But troops in a permanent camp in the midst of a populous country, with free communication by railroad, ought to be able to get good water and good food, when they are well, and prompt assistance and proper remedies when they are sick. There is no good excuse for such a state of things as is said to exist at Chickamauga.
The war with Spain is over, but the whipping of Spain is a small matter, we imagine, alongside of some of the wrongs that are the legacies of the war. We have liberated Cuba from Spanish rule, and have thus completed a part of our undertaking, but the most perplexing part, the establishment of a stable government—for to save the country from anarchy was quite as much our purpose, as to rescue it from the Spaniards—is yet to be performed. We hope we shall be able to perform it without bloodshed. But it will cause no great surprise if we have to use some physical force before we succeed in this part of our undertaking. We can leave the Philippines, concerning which we have promised nothing and to whose inhabitants we are under no obligations, to take care of themselves if we will, but Cuba we cannot treat in that way without violating our promises to the world, and consigning ourselves to the category of hypocrites. We told the world that we went to war to stop murder and pillage at our doors, to cure a condition that had become intolerable. We must stop them and cure this condition or else confess to a false pretence or impotence. One step we have taken, in driving out the Spaniards, but we are under just as much obligation to drive out or suppress any other class that puts obstacles in the way of good and peaceful government as the Spaniards. We are not the agents of Garcia and Gomez or the alleged Cuban republic, we are under no obligation to assist them in setting up a government. We are the agents of the majority of the people of Cuba and it is their wishes and not the wishes of any faction that we are bound to consult. There is a strong probability that our first trouble in discharging the second part of the obligation which we assumed on behalf of Cuba will arise from the failure of the insurgents to get from us the recognition they want. It is greatly to be feared that in spite of the refusal of our government to give them official recognition, the insurgents, have expected that Spanish sovereignty would give place to theirs, and that when they find that they are not to step into the places vacated by the Spaniards they may assume toward us an attitude not substantially different from that which they have maintained toward the Spaniards. If this should prove the case we may have to do some more fighting before a stable government can be set up. The situation we have a troublesome problem before us. The new government must be created under our auspices, and yet without our interference, except so far as may be necessary to give the people a fair chance to express their wishes, and a great many perplexing questions are sure to arise in this connection which will tax our best statesmanship to settle wisely.

BISMARCK'S WAY AS ORATOR.
He Was Not Eloquent, but His Great Personality Was Potent.
(C. Dowe in the Yale Alumni Weekly.)
Yet it seems as if but yesterday when I saw him in the heyday of his glory, as Germany's idol, holding a Parliament spellbound and the nation fairly hanging on his lips. In the old Reichstag building on Leipziger Strasse I have often listened to his harangues, for Bismarck never was an orator like Conkling or Blaine. But though he made no pretensions to being a speaker, he was such in reality, as is shown by the fact that important occasions he held the floor for several hours at a time. I recall that on one occasion, some years ago, he held the floor for 1-8-4 hours.
It was most interesting to observe Bismarck when making one of his great speeches than to listen to him. His words were far stronger and made much more of an impression in cold type than when they fell from his lips. This shows their inherent force and weight. His delivery was slow; he always used the exact word, and his facts were marshaled in clear and lucid order. When he first rose to speak a great silence used to fall upon the Reichstag; not even a whisper was heard, and the deputies of all shades of political opinion crowded as closely as possible around a single syllable of what he said. Bismarck had little or no rhetorical action. His motions were not graceful, his voice was husky and unmusical, and some of his sentences were as long as those of our own Everts. When attacked by some keen opponent he grew nervous, shifted his seat, his pen shook between his fingers, and very often his hand would go menacingly to his swordhilt, for Bismarck, while he was the first civil officer in the empire, was at the same time a general of cavalry, and used to wear his uniform in the Reichstag.

When aroused his ebullientness of passion was frequently terrible. His great frame quivered with emotion, and his gray-blue eyes flashed fire as he turned toward the benches of his adversaries and demanded to know who it was that misled him. Scenes of this character, however, were of rare occurrence in later years. He was merciless in retort, unsparring of persons, no matter their age, and his personal services to himself or to the empire. He possessed a caustic humor, which he used with great effect. A master of invective, his coarseness of speech very often defeated his own object.
Prince Bismarck was seen to best advantage in his celebrated informal receptions, and in his personal appearance. He is a striking personal appearance still. He is six feet two inches in height, and of splendid proportions in every respect. His head is very large, of great breadth and aristocratic looking, the mouth firm and covered by a heavy grizzly moustache; the jaws, which appeared to have the solidity of iron, are now considerably caved in, and converge in a finely out chin. The expression of the face is stern, earnest, inexorable, implacable. No charity, no leniency, nothing but the iron will.
In the studio of Prof. Schaper I saw the busts of Bismarck, Moltke, and Richard Wagner. By my inquiry Prof. Schaper said: "Of the three heads Wagner has much the largest; Moltke's is remarkable for its rugged bulk and perfect poise, while Bismarck's is remarkable for its rugged bulk and perfect poise, and for its aristocratic breadth above the ears, which, according to prehistorians, would indicate combative tendencies. At any rate, a Berlin hatter tells me, as the result of his craniological examinations, that of all German tribes the Mecklenburgers have the broadest heads, but that no Mecklenburger weighs so large a hat as the landlord of Friedrichsruhe."
HAD TO BE TRANSLATED.
The Bowers Boy Mixes Ship Lingo and Slang.
(Collier's Weekly.)
On board men-of-war all offenders against the rigid discipline of the navy are "brought to the mast." There, in the presence of the officer of the deck, the captain hears complaints and awards punishments. The following amusing incident is related by a naval officer as having actually occurred on one of the cruisers now off Havana:
"Jes' like dis, cap'n," said the Bowers recruit who had been brought to the mast for fighting, "as I trows me divan in de ditch I pipes de spud peeler plantin' his feelers on me swash can, and—"
"Hold on!—what's that?" said the captain.
"He means to say, captain, said the officer of the deck, "that, as he was stowing his hammock in the nettings he saw the cook trying to steal his water bucket."
"He hangs de bluff again me dat it is his'n!" continued the seaman, "but I diggs de packin' out o' my peepers and goes to squeeze de bone."
"Which is equivalent to saying," said the officer of the deck, "that the cook would have him believe that the bucket was his own, but the seaman refusing to be hoodwinked, started to recover his property."
"I diggs him in de stoop wid me stilt, and plants me squeezers in his ticklers, but de guy starts de ki-yi, when I jolts him thar!"
"That is to say," said the officer of the deck, "that he gave the cook a kick, and commenced to pull his whiskers, when the latter started to yell, whereupon the seaman hit him in the face."
"I breaks a brace of tombstones, and lets the gooser free—when he plants a stall asth me wind and starts the fliz at me sniffer, and—"
"Stop! Stop!" said the captain.
"I take it," said the officer of the deck, "that he knocked two o' the cook's teeth out, and then let him go; but the cook not being satisfied, commenced to choke the seaman and gave him a blow which caused his nose to bleed."
"Well, now my man," said the captain, "if I hear any more Choctaw spiel like this I'll cess the stomach of your Jeann in a way that will remind you of a flind-doe skate on the Midway; and in the meantime I'll give you a booble watch, with bracelets in the refrigerator for seven spots."
"Which means," observed the officer of the deck to the seaman, "that any more mutilation of the English language by you will cause the captain to kick the stuffing out of you, and meanwhile you get a week in the brig with handcuffs and shackles."
A REMARKABLE WAR.
While the war has been one of the shortest on record, it will be classed as the most remarkable in history. The Americans did not lose a single battle on sea or land; not one American ship was seriously damaged; the American forces captured strongholds where superior force were entrenched, and inflicted greater loss than they sustained; the naval power of Spain was annihilated, whereas not one American city or fort was bombarded; the Spanish forces were routed, and the forces of the United States were largely volunteer, and finally, the Spaniards were better armed and equipped than the Americans. These are other a few of the interesting features of the war which will be talked of and written about for many a day.—Montreal Star.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

THE GEM.

Have you seen the "Arabian Nights," the beautiful comedy now being played at the Gem? If not, don't miss it. It is the jolliest play that has been played here for a long time; everybody likes it. There is the husband who in a fit of loneliness takes a walk in the park, and while there makes the acquaintance of a young lady and loans her his handkerchief to keep the night air from her throat. The handkerchief has his name and address on it. The mother-in-law finds the handkerchief missing and then the young lady calls at his house to see him and he introduces her to his mother-in-law as a niece that was expected to arrive to make a visit. The real niece arrives on the spot and then, the fun commences.

There will be only a few more chances to see this amusing play. Next week comes the great pastoral production of Shakespeare's "As You Like It." Don't fail to get tickets for these plays as soon as possible as there is a great rush for them. They can be secured at the Casco Bay office, Telephone 61-2. Strangers should not think of going away without seeing the Gem and its great company of Frohman people that are playing there.

MCCULLUM'S THEATRE.

There was a large and notable audience at McCullum's theatre last evening, gathered to witness the splendid performance of the great naval drama "The Ensign."

The officers and some members of St. Albans commandery, Knight Templar, occupied the boxes on the right of the theatre while those on the left contained private theatre parties, Mr. E. J. Morgan, the distinguished actor, being a guest of one of the parties. The fire and electrical committees of the city government, including the Mayor, entertained a number of visitors from Boston by a visit to this theatre, occupying several of the front rows in the orchestra. Every member of the company were given an ovation and so enthusiastic did the audience become over the stirring, patriotic and dramatic climaxes that fourteen curtain calls were demanded during the evening.

Next week Manager McCullum will present the successful comedy in three acts by Harry and Edward Paulton entitled "Nobe." This play was one of the last season's greatest successes and is presented next week by request of many patrons. Miss Lisle Leigh will assume the title role and Mr. McCullum will be seen in his great comedy characterization of Peter Ames Dunn. Several new members of the McCullum company will appear in the production, and a feature will be the electrical stage setting of the play. Miss Genevieve Reynolds, one of last season's favorites, will join the company next week and play the same part she appeared in last season. Other new members will be Mr. L. A. Reynolds, one of the best young actors in juvenile roles in the country, Miss Dorothy Kent, a handsome and talented young ingenue actress, and Miss Mary Drummond Hay, a young society lady, who professional debut was made as a member of Richards & Canfield's company last season. Seats are now on sale for this engagement and can be secured at Steinert & Son's music store.

RIVERTON PARK.

The threatening weather of last evening from Riverton, where the music by the Fadettes was to be illustrated by the stereopticon, operated by Mr. E. C. Sweet. The seats were all filled and the concert by the orchestra was highly enjoyed, before the novel feature of the evening's entertainment was begun. This consisted of a medley, which had been arranged for the occasion by Mrs. Nichols, comprising a large number of patriotic airs. Before the music began Mr. Sweet treated the audience to fine portraits of Hon. Thomas B. Reed, of Admirals Sampson and Dewey and other distinguished people. The audience was well pleased with the introduction and gave evidence of it by hearty applause. Then the Fadettes began Mrs. Nichols's medley, and as the familiar strains of "Hail Columbia," "Trump, Trump, Trump the Boys are Marching," "Just Before the Battle, Mother," "The Varsity Chorus," "Our Flag is There," "America," and "Yankee Doodle," were rendered by the orchestra, scenes illustrative of the lives of the soldier boys were thrown upon the screen. The exhibition was of the most novel and interesting that has been seen for many a day. The music was inspiring, the scenes were good and the applause of the audience was continuous. The idea was met with great success, and it will be repeated tonight.

After the concert was concluded the people enjoyed an entertainment of first class specialty performers as given by Gorman's Specialty Alliance.

THIEVING BOYS.

There has been a gang of thieving boys operating in the vicinity of India street near Congress. On Monday night last they were trying keys in the doors of different houses, and visited one or more of the stores in that neighborhood. Their rendezvous was discovered by the police, and the ring leaders took flight and departed for Boston, so it is reported, with what cold cash the crowd had managed to feloniously gather in.

AN AMERICAN IN PONCE.

The Welcome to Our Soldiers and Sailors in the Captured City.

A LETTER FROM AN OFFICER OF THE AMERICAN FLEET.

The Capture Unique in History, the Invaders Being Welcomed With Cheers While the City Took a Holiday in Their Honor—The Firemen Straightway Had a Muster and Called on General Miles for a Speech—Street Scenes in the Porto Rico Town—The Appearance of the American Troops—Good Soldiers With Antiquated Arms.

A letter has been received in this city from one of the officers of the fleet which conveyed the American army on its voyage to Porto Rico. The letter tells an interesting story of the scenes in Ponce after the capture of that place and gives the impressions of an eye witness of the Porto Rican city and its inhabitants who welcomed their conquerors with open arms. The writer says:

Ponce, P. R., July 28.

We left Guanica early this morning and arrived here at 7 o'clock, finding the American flag flying and learning that the town had surrendered to the Annapolis on her appearance yesterday without shooting fired. The British consul who came on board told me the Spaniards had 300 men ready to resist but he had prevailed upon them to turn over the city without resorting to a useless shedding of blood, which was done, the troops retreating towards San Juan and in a hurry, too.

The afternoon three of us went ashore and found everything in confusion as troops and stores were being landed and the water-front crowded with boats and lighters. The first man I met was my old La Guayra friend, Hanna, who until this was consul at San Juan. He looked surprised when I saw him in 1892. As the city of Ponce lies back from the sea some three miles, we took a carriage and after a ride over an excellent macadamized road through several cane fields arrived there. The country is a vast garden, sugar and coffee estates on every side and as far as the eye can reach, while coconut trees are everywhere. Back of the city lies a range of mountains and the climate is like spring. Ponce is the largest city on the island, the population being 28,000, and that of the entire district about 50,000. It is regularly laid out, lighted by electricity, has an opera house, and is particularly clean, though of course it is like all Spanish towns. A general characteristic and the salient, much powdered female is always in evidence, sans hat or bonnet. We hadn't been there five minutes before several of the inhabitants (men) introduced themselves to some of whom spoke English. Everybody bowed to us and the way that we were stared at was embarrassing. The streets were jammed and I saw preparations in progress for a parade of firemen. A very nice looking young man in the uniform of one of the fire brigades and who spoke English introduced himself to us as the adjutant and showed us all over the building where the engines and hose carts are kept.

There was a band practicing the Washington Post March, and I learned that the music had only been received at 10 o'clock. He showed us a large gilded wooden crown that had been torn down off the building in the morning and a frame from which Alphonso's picture had been cut. He said, "That is Mr. Kinley's picture." Upon asking what was going on to bring all the people out, and why there was to be the parade, they informed us, that it was a hollow in honor of our taking the city. Everybody was cheering for "Los Americanos" and "Los Estados Unidos," and Miles had to retire the parade and make a speech to calm them down.

As I remarked to D. "this beats the Dutch," a captured city celebrating in honor of being captured. The people were simply wild over the fall of the city and couldn't do enough for us. They said they didn't know what would have become of them had we not arrived and already the Spaniards were beginning to arrest everybody who was suspected of having any sympathy for the Americans. As one gentleman said to me, "You have arrived just in time to save us from Africa or the Isle of Pines." Our troops were stationed all round the city and though physically a fine-looking set of men, their general appearance and manner of handling their pieces indicated the navy recruits. The only regulars here are the artillery. Our men were behaving particularly well but how I did hate to see that suicidal Springfield rifle in the possession of the town just in time to prevent the Spaniards from shooting five men who were caught cutting the telegraph wires between here and San Juan, but which close call, as they were to have been shot this morning.

Gen. Miles is a hustler and the right man in the right place. The whole atmosphere of the place has changed. Now things are done in a systematic manner. To hear him talk convinces one that he knows what he is about and means business. You can get very good cigars here for $2.00 per hundred and as they are mild I am going to lay in a stock.

July 29. A cooler day than usual and a regular American rain. I heard that one of our soldiers passed a Confederate $20 bill on the cigar man today, getting $40 in Spanish silver for it. Wasn't that a low down trick? Gen. Miles came on board this afternoon and told us Spain had made overtures for peace through the French minister. How I do hope it will be successful and bring us North out of this. Today we had eggs—the first in sixty days and how good they did taste!

The justification over our arrival here still continues and there isn't anything "bastante bueno" por los Americanos. The capture of the city has been a triumphal procession. The Alcaldes of the different towns en route tearing down the Spanish flag, hoisting American flags and declaring for annexation. You would never think it was the enemy's territory though we have not interfered in any way with the civil government. Today we have been rounding up all who were Spanish volunteers, making them turn in their arms after which we turned them loose. The people have been giving the whole lot away and as each one is brought to the Prefectura under escort of our men, a crowd of people have followed, jeering and yelling at a great rate and picking all manner of fun at them. The volunteers seem to regard it as a joke, too, though most of them are terribly frightened, thinking they were to be shot. With the letter came a copy of the ship's news paper printed on the Massachusetts.

PORTO RICO BULLETIN.
U. S. S. Massachusetts.
Port Ponce, Porto Rico.
Friday, July 29, 1898.
At 2.00 p. m., July 27th, Commander

Davis with the Dixie, "Annapolis, Wasp, and Gloucester" left Guanica to blockade Ponce and capture lighters to be used in landing the Army.

On the 28th, at 12.30 a. m., the city of Ponce and Playa surrendered to Commander Davis without resistance and the American flag was hoisted at 6.00 a. m. The Spanish garrison, forces of nearly 400, evacuated the city. The Provisional Articles of Surrender. The Massachusetts with the Cincinnati, General Miles, General Wilson, and three transports arrived from Guanica at 6.40 a. m. on the 28th. Immediately the transports anchored, the captured lighters were put alongside by the Gloucester, and the landing of the troops commenced with the assistance of steam launches and boats of the fleet. The inhabitants welcomed our forces with great enthusiasm. Captain Chester was appointed Captain of the Port to supervise the operation of landing. A quarantine was established, and measures inaugurated towards relieving the light-houses on Cardona Island and Cajas de Muertos.

Two additional transports arrived. There are now about 3500 men ashore here, the force consisting of the 3d and 4th Wisconsin and 10th Pennsylvania Volunteers.

The Army is getting well established, the town being already surrounded by rifle pits. General Wilson has his headquarters in the city. The shipping captured in the harbor consists of 60 sugar lighters, about 6 sailing vessels, (3 of them being Spanish brigantines) and about 70 tons of coal. A Board consisting of Lt. Comdr. Schroeder, Lt. Comdr. Walbridge, Lieut. A. Ward, and Carpenter Waltemeyer has been appointed to make a report of the character of these vessels and determine their least objectionable use.

The Annapolis left in the afternoon for Guanica and the Dixie for St. Thomas with dispatches.

The landing at Guanica took place on the forenoon of July 28th. The place was taken without any resistance. The Gloucester. Altogether up to date there has been landed at Guanica about 3400 men, namely: 6th Massachusetts, 6th Illinois, 300 recruits, 5 batteries Light Artillery and one battalion of Engineers. General Henry has arrived at Guanica and taken command.

The Army has advanced as far as Yanco which is almost four miles from Guanica and the terminus of the railroad from Ponce. Slight resistance was met with, and our loss was four slightly wounded. The railroad from Ponce to Yanco has been captured and is now in working order.

This afternoon, July 29th, three transports arrived from Guanica.

CARL W. LIBBY.

Another Portland Boy Dead at Chickamauga.

A telegram received in the city yesterday noon stated that Carl W. Libby had died from fever Wednesday night in the hospital at Chickamauga, and the news of his sudden death, as he had been ill but a few days, will be a great shock to his friends. Mr. Libby, who was only 21 years of age, was a young man of exemplary habits and will be greatly missed by all his friends. He lived with his mother, who is a widow, at No. 313 Cumberland street, and the afflicted mother, and his brothers and sisters, have the sincere sympathy of all.

For a number of years young Libby has been a clerk at L. A. Mercier's market on Congress street, until he left with the First Maine regiment for the south. Previously he was with the Union Mutual Insurance company.

He was a corporal in Company A, Portland Light Infantry, and was greatly respected by his comrades. His remains will be forwarded at once to Portland for interment.

SAVE MAINE BOYS!

Time Some One Interfered in Their Behalf.

Will Remain at Fever Stricken Chickamauga Park While More Favored Regiments are Ordered Away.

The Lewiston Journal prints the following despatch from Chickamauga: Chickamauga Park, Ga., August 11.—This morning news was very disappointing to the First Maine. A Washington despatch says we are to stay here as a part of Gen. Brookins' army while more favored regiments go to Knoxville and Lexington. This regiment needs a change to northern air and all that I wired you northern air with fresh emphasis. The Porto Rican prospects cheered the boys up for a time, but now that they fall back and face an indefinite stay in this fever ridden park, they are blue indeed. I have interviewed every company commander and without exception they feel that change is imperative and that six more weeks in Chickamauga means death and disease for many.

Recent despatches in the Journal may have seemed unduly tinged with the indigo, but former Chaplain Cummings, who is investigating the conditions of the men, acknowledges that the Journal told the exact truth. "The First Maine physically, is not fifty per cent of what it was when it left Augusta," says the chaplain.

Thursday morning's sick report shows 49 in the hospital, 47 in quarters. People at home should have every influence to have the First Maine sent to some northern point to recuperate.

Reports from the sick this morning show no change for the worse.

ACCIDENT TO A PORTLAND MAN.

John H. Ray of Portland, employed in making the changes in the digester room of the pulp mill, South Brewer, met with a serious accident on Monday. He had been at work but a short time and was engaged in moving some rigging at the top of one of the new digesters, when he slipped and fell to the floor, 50 feet. In his descent he struck the staging built about the digester. He was picked up by a fellow workman and Dr. Wheeler was summoned. An examination by the physician showed that several ribs had been broken and that the man had received a severe shock.

NADEAU BOUND OVER.

Ordered to Recognize in the Sum of One Thousand Dollars.

The United States Circuit court came in yesterday morning at 11.20 o'clock. George Nadeau, the Aroostook man whose case was detailed in yesterday's PRESS, was in the dock. Clerk Davis read the indictment charging him with resisting and wounding a United States officer in the discharge of his duty, on March 20th, 1892.

Nadeau asked to be allowed to consult counsel, Hon. A. F. Mouton of Deerling, who had just arrived, and permission was given by the judge. In a few moments they reentered the court room and Nadeau pleaded not guilty. The court ordered him to recognize in the sum of $100 from day to day, until the September term of the court on September 23 in this city. As Nadeau could not furnish bonds he went to jail. There were only a few people present in the court room to attend the hearing.

THE FIREMEN'S MUSTER.

Some of the Noted Companies That Will Be Here.

Among the companies that are booked for the Firemen's Muster next week, are the Charlestown, Mass., veterans, who will bring a band of 10 pieces. Worcester with 75, Fall River with 65, Roxbury with 80, Scituate with 75, Marblehead with 80, Boston with 75, Lowell with 250, Lynn with 100, Pittsfield with 100, Walworth with 50, Salem with 125, Newton with 75, South Gardner, Mass., with 70, Brunswick with 50, and many others.

The Salem Vets will bring along with them the Cadet Band of that city which has such a reputation all over New England. There will be seven or eight bands in the procession and not far from 15 drum corps.

The hand engine from Bunker Hill was formerly the E. R. Walker of Vinal Haven, and played here in 1876. The crack engine in the list is "Baw Boee," of South Gardner, Mass., which won the tournament at Springfield, Mass., last year. Another fast machine is the one from Somerville, which has a record of some 222 feet. Nearly all the engines were built before 1890, with the exception of one from Lowell, which was built in 1895, especially for muster purposes, but hereafter the laws of the association forbid any new machines entering the contest.

The grounds at Deerings Oaks, where the contest is to take place is being prepared. The platform where the engines are to be stationed, is to be 60 by 40 feet, room enough for two engines, the purpose being for one machine to get ready while the other is contesting. The distance from the platform to the end of the hose will be 250 feet, and here will be located the pipe platform. About 100 feet beyond the pipe platform will be the measuring platform, which will be 150 feet long. There is ample room for hundreds of spectators in the enclosure.

The New Bedford Veteran Fireman's association, which is to attend the coming muster in this city, will bring the following distinguished people as guests on that occasion: Hon. Charles S. Ashler, mayor; Hon. David L. Parker, postmaster; John J. Howland, license commissioner; James Delano, cemetery commissioner; William G. Kirschbaum, health commissioner; Frederick May, chief engineer of the fire department; William A. Gibbs, assistant engineer.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Agent Perry of the S. P. C. A., received complaint last week that Ira A. Cole, who carries the mails from Wells to Ogunquit, had cruelly treated his horse. It was said that Cole, while intoxicated, became angry with his horse and took out a knife and stabbed the animal viciously in the neck. Mr. Perry upon investigation found the reports true and arrested Cole and placed him before Trial Justice Alonzo A. Cripp. Cole was fined $10 and costs, which amounted to $18. He paid and was discharged.

COLUMBIA TO UNCLE SAM: "YOU MUST FIX THE RESPONSIBILITY, OR THE COUNTRY WILL."

WAR CARTOON FROM HARPER'S WEEKLY.

Reproduced from Harper's Weekly. By Permission. Copyright, 1898, by Harper & Brothers.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

Who is responsible for the medical and sanitary conditions prevailing at Santiago de Cuba? The stories that come to us from the field of battle and from the transports coming North with the sick men of the army are heart-rending. We know that the lack of medical appliances, of medicines of ordinary comfort, of doctors and nurses, was criminal. We know that if it had not been for the Red Cross Society, conditions would have been more murderous than they actually have been. But who is responsible? At the very outset of the expedition from Tampa the wrong began. Whether sufficient medical supplies for the army were taken or not, not nearly enough reached the front. We are told that a sufficient supply was forwarded, and that the lack of medical appliances, of medicines of ordinary comfort, of doctors and nurses, was criminal. We know that if it had not been for the Red Cross Society, conditions would have been more murderous than they actually have been. But who is responsible? At the very outset of the expedition from Tampa the wrong began. Whether

BUSY CARRANZA.

He Has Been Fitting Out Prizes for the Yankee Warships.

Lieut. Ranson de Carranza, whom Sir Wilfrid Laurier expelled from Canada at the request of the Imperial Government some weeks ago, is in the city. The genial Spaniard bobbed up this morning at the Windsor Hotel, where he registered and was assigned to room 347. Later in the day he visited the residence of the Spanish Consul, Senor Bonifacio Martel, 248 Dorchester street, where he was seen by a Star reporter. He evidently was greatly surprised at meeting the reporter, and absolutely refused to give any information with regard to his movements during the past few weeks. It was learned, however, from Mr. St. Pierre, Q. C., his lawyer, that Carranza had kept his promise to leave Canada and that as a matter of fact he did leave the Dominion, going from Halifax to the French islands of St. Pierre, Miquelon, off Newfoundland, where, it is said, he supervised the shipping of provisions by blockade runners to Cuba. Mr. St. Pierre added that as Senor Carranza's mission was now at an end owing to the close of the war, his client had returned to Montreal for the purpose of bidding adieu to the Spanish Consul, and his many friends preparatory to his departure for Spain. Senor Carranza certainly looks as if the breezes of the gulf had agreed with him. On the reporter complimenting him on his healthy appearance, he laughingly remarked: "You have fine climate, and I have been enjoying it." He retains his whiskers, concerning which so much was written a few weeks since.

Asked if he had received any official news from Spain relative to the peace negotiations, the Senor replied in the negative. He had simply read the newspaper reports. He had no opinion to express in regard to the terms accepted by his Government. The lieutenant preferred not to discuss the recent action of Sir Wilfrid Laurier expelling him from Canada. He will remain in Montreal a few days, and will probably visit Toronto before his return to his native country. It is not known whether he will form a member of the Spanish Legation that will be appointed to Washington at the close of the war. It is said that several of the vessels seized by the American warships while trying to run the Cuban blockade, were equipped and sent to Cuba by Senor Carranza, the island of St. Pierre Miquelon being utilized as the centre from which supplies were forwarded. TOILERS OF THE AIR.

How the Work on Suspension Bridge Is Done.

(Godley's Magazine.)
The workmen on the cables follow closely after the builders of the iron roadway. These men are engaged in more perilous employment, if anything than the former. They climb nimbly up to the very summit of the huge towers, and then without flinching, proceed to descend the inclined cables. It makes the spectators below tremble for them so dangerous is the descent, but the workmen have no fear, else they would be unfitted for the duty required of them. After sliding down the cable a dozen feet they stop and turn around and face the towers. The men working the derrick slowly swing out to them the end of a cable about three inches in diameter. Another man carries out to them by means of a small hand pulley and rope a red-hot band of steel, which the cable workers seize with their pliers and clamp around the large cable on which they are resting. Then while the steel is still hot and malleable the small cable, with its end secured in a thick bolt of steel, is brought into position and the end welded into the red-hot steel band encircling the main cable. The workmen pound and forge away, hammering, twisting and bending the metal before it cools off. The welding must be done rapidly, and the workmen have no time to stop and think of the dangerous position in which they are placed. Probably the only support they have comes from their legs, which they wind tightly around the cable, as they swing their arms and upper part of the body with violent exertion. When the cable is forged into its place, the workmen take a few moments' rest, and then slide down to the next joint, where the same operation is repeated. Cable after cable is attached in this way, until there is a regular tangle of steel work and dangling cables looking for all the world like a spider's web. But there is order in this colossal spider web, such as never existed in the home of the insect that weaves the web in our homes and woods. Gradually one part of the bridge after another is finished, and when the "false work" of scaffolding is removed the structure stands out in all the beauty of its finished state. The bridge builders must not only be skilled in their work, but they must have the hardihood and daring of the sailor, for most of their work is performed at an altitude higher than the topmast of any sailing vessel. They labor in all kinds of weather—when the sun is pouring down its torrid rays in midsummer, or when the mercury registers zero in winter. To them their dizzy height is no more than a fifteen or twenty feet are to the ordinary carpenter or house painter. They seldom use ladders. They would be constantly in the way, and they would not reach a higher framework they climb nimbly up the steel works or jump lightly across from one truss to another. A jump of three feet from girder to girder is a commonplace occurrence to them.

WIT AND WISDOM.

Two citizens of Nebraska were caught in one of those violent and shaped clouds, and as they scooted along in the midst of ruins of buildings and flying trees one of them remarked:
"This is the worst cyclone I ever saw."
"Ignorant man!" cried the other in tones of scorn that were almost drowned by the rush of the storm. "Can't you distinguish a cyclone from a tornado? Are the teachings of science altogether lost upon you? This is a tornado, and as described by Professor Loveland and Meteorologist Gere, it is."
Just then a church spire transpired the speaker, and he perished in great agony, while the other man drifted along for ten miles or so and was dumped softly into a sand bank. As he brushed the sand out of his teeth and ears he remarked:
"Well, that was the worst cyclone I ever saw."—Nebraska State Journal.

HEADLESS BODY WASHED ASHORE
Amesbury, Mass., August 11.—The headless body of a woman was washed ashore at Salisbury Beach late this afternoon and the town officers are actively at work in an attempt to have it identified. The woman was apparently about 30 years of age, wore a black dress, tan shoes and black hose. It is thought the body is that of one of the victims of the cyclone at Hampton Beach, July 4th. There was nothing about the clothing which enables the officers to identify the body without the assistance of outside parties.

A LOOK AHEAD

At some of the striking features of the next issue of the

PORTLAND SUNDAY TIMES.

The Sunday Times by its attention to local happenings, its comments on local topics, its extensive telegraph service, and its unrivalled miscellaneous department has won for itself the reputation of being the best Sunday paper in the world for Portland people. Here are some of the features which will please the readers of its next issue:

WOMEN AS GAMBLERS.

Women who spell the word with a capital W, the women of the Hebrew race, the old fashioned women who love home the best, in fact all sorts of women as seen by Bab are described in the letter she has written the Times from Long Branch.

A LESSON IN GEOGRAPHY.

What do you know about the Canary islands? Can you tell anything about the Balearic group? Do you know where and what Ceuta is? The stars and stripes might have flown over all these places had not Spain sued for peace when she did. A description of them written for the Times is as interesting as fiction and as valuable as a lesson in geography.

FAIR WOMEN OF PORTO RICO.

In the wonderful land which has become an American possession, as the result of the war, there dwell many beautiful women. Theirs is the life of the middle ages, for they are guarded by stern parents who arrange their marriages and do not regard the higher education as at all necessary. See the article on the women of Porto Rico and the life of the island.

A BOY WONDER.

There is a little chap in New York who is attracting the attention of the athletes for he has shown record breaking propensities on the skates, the bicycle and his own active little feet. He may be the Jimmy Michael of the future. However that may be he is of interest to all lovers of athletic sports who will want to see what a Times writer says about him.

PICTURES BY TROWBRIDGE.

Trowbridge the celebrated newspaper artist, whose work is a feature of the Times, has taken as topics for the next issue a scene in the trenches at Santiago, showing how the Yankee troops faced the Dons. From the Cuban coast to the shore of the Atlantic, the artist goes for his second subject and his sketch of the summer girl as she takes her dip in the sea is a pretty picture.
